

NF Camp

is the annual summer camp of the Children's Tumor Foundation, dedicated to teens and young adults ages 12 to 22 living with NF. This week-long experience in Salt Lake City, Utah takes place on the third or fourth week of July (6 days/6 nights). NF Camp is not just about the fun-filled activities, it is a chance to make lasting friendships with other people who understand what it's like to be a young person with NF.

About the Children's Tumor Foundation

The Children's Tumor Foundation is a nonprofit organization dedicated to finding effective treatments for the millions of people worldwide living with NF, a genetic condition that causes tumors to grow on nerves. NF includes neurofibromatosis type 1 (NF1), and all types of schwannomatosis (SWN), including NF2-related schwannomatosis (NF2), formerly known as neurofibromatosis type 2. NF affects 1 in every 2,000 individuals of all populations. For more information, please visit www.ctf.org.

If you are interested in learning more, or in sponsoring a camper, please visit ctf.org/camp.

Children's Tumor Foundation
1-800-323-7938
212-344-6633
info@ctf.org

NF Camp

Salt Lake City, Utah

NF Camp

Salt Lake City, Utah

CHILDREN'S TUMOR FOUNDATION
ENDING NF
THROUGH RESEARCH

NF
Camp

Salt Lake City, Utah

THE ANNUAL SUMMER CAMP OF THE CHILDREN'S TUMOR FOUNDATION

Who: Teens and young adults ages 12-22 who are living with NF1, NF2, or schwannomatosis. Those older than 22 may register in special circumstances.

When: Campers can choose to attend either the third or fourth week of July. Check ctf.org/camp for specific dates and application deadlines.

What: Exciting activities for all interests and abilities! Off-site trips include a Water Park, Amusement Park, Go Karts and Laser Tag. On-site activities include horseback riding, hanging out, ropes course, a talent show and our team-building event, COLOR aWAREness—which lasts all year long!

Why: Community, support, friendship, and fun! Opportunities are endless for teens and young adults the instant they arrive at NF Camp. Often for the first time, campers can talk freely about living with NF, share their experiences, and make long-lasting friendships. At camp they don't have to worry about the next MRI or doctor appointment; they can be kids - have fun and enjoy life!

Where: NF Camp takes place at Camp Kostopulos (Camp K) in Emigration Canyon, Utah on 25 beautiful acres in the canyons outside Salt Lake City. This campground has a registered nurse on site and provides a wide array of recreational activities to accommodate all ages and abilities.

Questions? Contact us at info@ctf.org.

APPLY

Download an application at ctf.org/camp, or email info@ctf.org. All applications must be submitted with a physical signed from the camper's primary physician listing the camper's medical regimens and need-to-know details.

TUITION

Tuition is $750 per camper, which includes room and board, food, and activities. Travel arrangements are not included. Scholarships are available upon request. For a scholarship application please email info@ctf.org.

TRAVEL

If you live nearby or plan to take a road trip to camp, we can arrange for drop-off and pick-up times. If you fly in, Camp K Directors will meet all campers at the airport just outside the gate as they get off the plane.

Visit ctf.org/camp for more information and to download an application!